THE FLIGHT TO THE SUBURBS

This Jefferson County area, outside of the City of Louisville, is one whose counterpart is to be found at many locations throughout the country. With the population growing and shifting as it is during these prosperous times, many and many smaller cities are bursting at the seams and spilling out over into the outlying areas.

U.S. News & World Report, in this week's issue, prints, a story under the heading, "Why People Move Out of Cities," which represents results of a survey made of a number of metropolitan areas. Investigations of the representatives of the magazine indicate the similarity of growth, mushroom style, which population centers all across the country are experiencing.

We see, mirrored in this comprehensive study, scenes just as are being developed right here in our own community. People moving out of the cities into the surrounding suburbs, the cities in turn moving out the boundary lines and reclaiming them through annexation. The picture is one of abnormal activity and expansion.

The conclusion seems to be, generally speaking, that the influx into the suburbs is just getting a good start. In fact, the magazine report has it that "all signs point to an increase rather than a letup in this flight to the suburbs."

According to Census Bureau estimates this nation's metropolitan areas, will increase by 46.5 million people during the two decades from 1955 to 1975. It is expected that four out of five new residents will live in the suburbs.

There are people in our own fringe area who, having made one move from the city to where they felt they would be away from the noise and bustle and the congestion of big city living, are already casting their eyes toward the more open spaces and making ready for the second migration.

There are however some marked differences noted in situations to be found in and around some of the larger cities. For instance, Charlotte, N. C., unlike Louisville, has incorporated towns around its fringe. This makes it a more simple matter for the municipal authorities, as new suburbs start toward a healthy growth and development, to reach out and annex them. Thus, Charlotte is one of the larger cities whose population (within the actual municipal boundaries) is expected to grow more by 1975 than the suburbs that surround it.

We were surprised not to find Louisville listed on the chart compiled by U.S. News, showing the expected growth of cities by 1975 and that of the suburban areas. This is not surprising, however, as Louisville is surrounded them. Among them, Lexington is expected to outstrip that of the city itself. While the municipal area is expected to increase by 37 per cent between 1955 and 1975, its suburban population is expected to be upped 69.3 per cent during the same.

Many of the problems which are overtaking the greater metropolitan areas are listed in the magazine report. They are very similar to those with which our local authorities have to deal, and sound familiar to the reader who has given even casual thought to the local situation. The need for cooperative thinking and acting is reflected in the written account as it depicts the various angles, and as the implications are considered.

THAT FEDERAL AID PIPE DREAM

The old man with the cane is a familiar character in our book. The other man, someone caught him strolling. "How are you feeling, grandpa?" he was asked. "Not so good," said the old fellow in a feeble voice. "I used to walk around the block every morning before breakfast, but now when I get half way round I'm so tired I have to turn back."

Facts brought out in the survey provoke more serious thinking on the part of those who read thoughtfully. The need for cooperative thinking and acting is reflected in the written account as it depicts the various angles, and as the implications are considered.

Our legislators in the House of Representatives tried walking clear around the block yesterday. They debated federal aid to education and approved the Powell amendment denying assistance to districts which practiced segregation.

Then they tried walking half way around the block. They adopted a substitute section which did away with the Powell amendment and offered aid to the states in the proportion in which these states paid income tax revenues into the federal treasury.

Then they turned around and walked back to the place they had before they went out to education bill was even considered. They killed the measure entirely. That's doing the hard way but it afforded plenty of exercise. Everybody was confused, hot, unhappy and tired all in one wild session.

Federal aid to education is dead for this session of Congress and it is not wasting any tears over its demise. Our eyes are not blurred by the Washington illusion which holds that money grows on trees along the Potomac. We know that anything which comes out of federal funds back to the states has come out of our pockets first. And every money changes hands, somebody abstracts something.

There is a story — spurious and slightly irrelevant — about the president's grandson in Colorado who once wrote a letter to God asking for $100. The family intercepted it, of course, but sent it on to him thinking he would get a kick out of it. He did and to prove it, he put $5 in an envelope and sent it back anonymously to the youngster.

Soon there was another letter to God — this time a thank you note. The family opened it eagerly and read: "Dear God, I certainly appreciate your sending that $100 to me, but next time don't send it by way of Washington because those politicians back there took out $95 and kept it themselves."

We think it better to provide money for our schools on the local level from local people who will exercise local control. There is no "free" lunch, less cheating and more money. Passing money around and around is like passing an ice cube from hand to hand. The more people who finger it, the less ice there is for the lemonade!

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

Fellowship
 Lesson for August 12, 1956

THE word "fellowship" is hated around a good deal without people's always knowing just all that the word can mean. When some men use the word they may mean no more by it than lunching in the same place with other men of about the same age and salary bracket, once a week, calling one another by their first names and in general acting as jolly as possible. This is some distance off the meaning of the same word "fellowship" as we find it in the New Testament. There it is a very important word. Indeed it sums up all that the Christian church is and ought to be at its best.

With God
 Fellowship—the word, that is—even among Christians can be misunderstood. It is not just the same thing as "sharing." Some forms of sharing, or what goes by that name, are not fellowship at all. The writer was in a meeting once where a good deal was said about sharing with the needy of the city and in other lands. Toward the close of the meeting it came out what was being planned: an old-clothes drive. Everybody present was exhorted to go through his or her attic and closets and find clothing, hats and what-not that wouldn't be used again, and to have these ready on the porch when the boys came by for it. Of course that was not real sharing at all, it was only a scheme to get rid of some fire hazards, to tidy up for full housecleaning. Real sharing always involves giving up something which one would otherwise have been glad to use. But even real sharing may not be fellowship as the New Testament has it—not as our Lord and the beloved John meant it and practiced it. A traveler can share a seat on a bus when he would much rather sit alone. Fellowship is sharing-with-love, it is a sharing love.

With Man
 It is a striking fact that although John is writing to and about the Christian church, he writes two of his three letters without ever using the word. Perhaps it was too cold and formal a word for him. Although Paul loved the word "church" and so may we. But John did not want to be misunderstood. So he uses simple words like "God's children," "brothers." The church is the place for fellowship among God's children. In a real church, there is bound to be a closer, dearer tie between Christian and Christian than there can be between persons outside the church, or between Christians and outsiders. What brings Christians together in the first place is not simply themselves as human beings. It is their fellowship with God. It is because they are so close to him that they become close to one another. Now fellowship with other Christians in the church is again more than sharing. Even on the sharing-level, how much of it is done in the typical church? What do "members" of the same church share? Pews, hymnbooks, the same sermons, preacher, potato salad at church supper? All this may be the doorway to Christian fellowship, but it is not quite it. Two people can sit at opposite ends of the same pew, and eat out of the same salad bowl, for years on end, without ever finding out what real fellowship means. It is only when they really share the love of God, when together they let his love flow through them in joyous service in his name, that they discover Fellowship.

Learning How
 Christian churches would wither without Christian homes. Little children learn lessons in living first at home before they learn in Sunday school or church. Father, mother and children can learn together what Christian fellowship is, and if they do, they will know what the preacher is talking about. If they do not learn at home, the minister, and the Bible, will seem to be talking in a strange language. Actually, there is not a great deal of time to practice fellowship in the church. The one who spends five hours a week there; it's more than most do. But there are 168 hours in a week; what about the other 163? If the church is the lecture-room for fellowship, the home is the laboratory. The Bible tells us that it will work. Home is where we can find out how right it is.

The Old Times

"Maybe money can't buy happiness, but it'll help you get some fine synthetics!"

SEEK YE FIRST THE KINGDOM

Faith

Son of man, whenever I doubt of life I think of Thee." So wrote George Matheson in his blindness.

Whenever you and I doubt either God or man, we would do well to think of Jesus. His cross is a symbol of what God is and what we may become. The proud Roman at the foot of the cross said, "This man was the son of God."

Jesus was supremely a man of faith. He had great faith in both God and man. We have faith in God largely because we must have Him. We are not sufficient unto ourselves. Do you have faith? Life becomes a radiant thing for people of faith, since they see so much deeper into the secrets of life. The universe opens its heart to eyes of faith; closed doors swing ajar when faithful steps approach; loving spirits smile their welcome to trustworthy souls; latent powers blossom in the presence of fidelity; young children and wise old age give themselves with abandon to those who offer confidence. God waits to share His blessings on men who can be trusted. Of the Pilgrims of yesterday, guided by the Divine, it was said, "They were men of faith and very sure of God." Are you sure of God?

Pla To Improve Lowe Road Made To Officials

County officials Thursday began a study of a half mile stretch of Lowe Road between Browns Lane and Wilkes Point to determine whether or not the county will be financially able to undertake a reconstruction project. The promise to study conditions was made at Tuesday's People's Day session when a group of property owners reported to County Judge Bertram Van Arsdel that the section is heavily traveled although it is only 150 feet wide.

Ken D. Thompson, 4400 Lincoln Road, said the road used by persons going to and from Appliance Park and said the thoroughfare has been the scene of numerous traffic mishaps. He said that 20 utility poles, 21 newspaper and mail boxes, 21 trees and various hedges and shrubs are within five feet of the road's shoulders.

Lowell Road also provides access to St. Regis Park, Brookhaven, Ashfield Acres, Cambridge Village and Lincolnshire. County Road Engineer W. Price Lane said the present 40-foot right-of-way should be widened if the road is improved. Judge Van Arsdel promised a decision as soon as the study is completed. It is possible improvements and costs.

County Roads To Be Built With State Aid

Reconstruction plans for a 2.7-mile stretch of Whippas Mill Road from Shelbyville Road to La Grange Road were announced Wednesday by state and county officials. Financing will be from rural highway funds.

The road is in a rapidly growing area between Lexington and Anchorage. The county will secure the necessary rights-of-way. It also was announced that the state will start construction on the section of the County Outer Loop between Preston Highway at Okolona to Beulah Church Road near High View. Rights-of-way already have been obtained.

Bardstown Road News

By Mrs. Fildon Frederick

The community was shocked Saturday evening to hear of the sudden death of Mr. Edwin L. Allgeier, Beargrass Avenue. Our deepest sympathy is extended to the bereaved family.

Mrs. Henry Lentz entertained Wednesday, August 1, at her home on Crawford Avenue for her Cousins Club. Fifteen were present and a delightful dinner was served. In the afternoon games were played and a happy day was spent.

Mrs. Eugene Garrity entertained August 2, at her home on Crawford Avenue in honor of the birthday anniversary of her little daughter, Sharon's. A beautiful cake with all trimmings and other good eats with games were enjoyed by the youngsters attending.

Mrs. Robert J. Cook, Mrs. J. H. Shively and Mrs. Orville J. Stivers took their lunch Wednesday and visited Mrs. Jasper Miller on Waterson Trail, South, and enjoyed several hours together. Mrs. Miller had prepared a delicious fruit salad and these friends complimented the wonderful meal. A devotional was given and several songs were sung. Mrs. Miller, who has been unwell for some time, seemed to be much improved that day and her friends hope she may soon be on the way to good health again.

Mrs. Emma Battie, Louisville, will spend next week with Mrs. William Fegenbush, at her home on Bardstown Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Tyler will entertain Saturday, August 11, at their lovely home in Bardstown Road for the annual picnic of the Bardstown Road Church. Refreshments will be served and games will be available for all.

The Vacation Bible School of the Bardstown Road Church closed Friday with a picnic for the children in Cherokee Park, in the afternoon. A happy time was spent by the youngsters with games and refreshments.

News was received here of the death of Mrs. Lillian Monroe Jones, widow of Mr. Marcus Allgeier of Christ Church, at Hot Springs, Ark., July 28. The body was brought here and the funeral was held at Pearson's on Third Street the Wednesday following. Interment was in Cave Hill Cemetery.

Mrs. Jones, who was formerly Miss Lillian Monroe, taught at Hikes Graded School many years ago. She was later married to Mr. Merriam county agent at that time. He later died. She then married Mr. Jones and moved to the West. She will be remembered by many of her former pupils at this place.

Mrs. John Ferris, who had the misfortune to fall and break her leg ago, is getting along nicely. We hope she may continue to improve and soon be out again.

County Home News

By Mrs. Ida Carrithers

Bro. Dedis Anderson, Mrs. Anderson and several members from Oak Dale Baptist Church, came to the home Sunday afternoon for church services. Bro. Anderson brought a good message that we all enjoyed. The choir sang some beautiful songs.

Last Thursday afternoon the Homemakers from Edgewood came to visit us. They were Mrs. John Davok, president; Mrs. Val Baynes, Mrs. Joseph Lindsey, Mrs. Barbara Bloch, Mrs. Irene Crask, and Barbara Crask. Barbara entertained the group with three dances in costumes. They served ice cream and homemade cake. They also had a gift for each resident. We appreciate their kindness.

Mrs. Sarah Welch visited Mrs. Nancy Gaudin in the General Hospital last Thursday.

Miss Angela First and Mr. Charlie First, Jr., visited the home Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Mary Baird visited Mr. and Mrs. Roy Baird and family during the week-end.

At the County Home we are enjoying nice fresh vegetables out of our garden every day.

MODERN FARMER

DEADLINE SET

Kentucky farmers entitled to refund of federal tax on gasoline used for farming purposes during the period January 1, 1956, through June 30, 1956, should file Form 2240 with the district director of Internal Revenue, Louisville, on or before October 1, 1956. The period to be covered in future years will be a one-year period ending on June 30 of any year.

The 1956 wheat crop is estimated at 923 million bushels, about 15 million under 1955.

Soil Bank Payments To Total $4,803,285

Kentucky farmers will receive $4,803,285 under soil bank agreements signed up to July 20.

The deadline for signing the agreements was July 21, a spokesman of the State Department of Agriculture states. The soil-bank program under which farmers receive federal payments for withdrawing land from the production of certain crops, was set up earlier this year by Congress.

Farmers signed 12,128 agreements for withdrawing 143,653 acres from corn production and will receive $4,803,285.

Nine hundred and forty agreements withdrawing 877,19 acres of burley tobacco land from production will net farmers $130,146. Total payments of $83,664 will be received by 599 farmers for withdrawal of 779,46 acres of dark fire-cured tobacco and 632 agreements for withdrawal of 407,4 acres from dark air-cured tobacco were signed for total payments of $67,795.

Wheat agreements totaled 336, covering 4,196.5 acres and providing payments of $19,245.

The state's relatively few cotton farmers signed 113 agreements to withdraw 181.6 acres from production, to receive $9,342.
